POLICE SEARCH FOR 3 BANDITS WHO STUCK UP MANAGER

Christopher Beatty, Lacy Park Store Manager, Robbed of $7,963

AFTERNOON RECEIPTS

Men Were Armed and Took Victim's Wallet and Car Keys

Police are still searching for some trace of the three bandits who Saturday evening held up and robbed the manager of a Baltimore Market of $7,963 at Lacey Park, veterans' housing project north of Hatboro in Warminster Township. A thorough check is to be made today of all details connected with the robbery.

The victim of the hold-up, Christopher Beatty, 43, 7463 Elizabeth road, Melrose Park, closed the store as usual at about 6:30 and was en route to deposit the late afternoon receipts when he was attacked.

Beatty, who was carrying the money in an ordinary paper shopping bag, told Chief Paul Brennan of the Warminster township police, he noticed an automobile parked outside the front entrance of the market as he left, with three men sitting in it, but paid no further attention to it. After locking up, he turned, went around the side of the market building, and to the parking lot at the rear, where his automobile was parked.

The men, waiting in their car until he had reached the parking lot, followed him in the machine, driving up beside his car as he was unlocking it. Two of the men got out and covered him with pistols, he said. One of them took the receipts from him, then, as an afterthought, reached out and yanked his hat down over his eyes so that he could not see them.

"Frisking" their victim, the robbers took his personal wallet, containing $25 in cash and identification papers, from his hip pocket. They also took a wallet containing company papers from an inside coat pocket, but handed it back upon finding it contained no money.

As a precaution they also took his car keys. When Beatty pleaded to have them back, they told him, "No, we'll mail them to you."

The men left as suddenly as they had pounced, Beatty said, and when he was able to pry his hat off his eyes he saw their car speeding north on Jacksonville road toward Street road and Newtown.

Beatty told Chief Brennan he had made it a habit to shift the route by which he went to the bank each day, and to go at a slightly different time.

Brennan called in State Police of the Doylestown barracks for help. The same store was broken into about two years ago, according to Brennan, and the safe robbed of $3900.

"LEVELING-OFF" PERIOD

In some ways, President Truman's situation is like that of the dog which used to chase the freight train past his home. One day he caught it—and didn't know what to do with it!

The President obviously was whistling in the dark when he said that the recession which has been going on ever since he was re-elected is just a "leveling-off" readjustment.

He doesn't know. Neither does anyone else. The decline may be just a downward flip in the upsurge of inflation—or it may be a major turning point, leading to an economic slow-down on a very large scale.

Much is going on. Farm production for the past two years actually has been well above demand, in all except a few minor lines. Prices have been held much too high, under the government's farm support (subsidy) program. Now they have broken through the support levels. No one knows exactly why, or what it means.

Unemployment is growing. Instead of the national goal of 60,000,000 jobs, we are said to have only 57,400,000 at work—2,600,000 idle. But this figure is largely guess-work. Despite Uncle Sam's gaudy efforts to keep abreast of statistics, it will be many months before we really can be certain how many are unemployed at this moment. By then it will be too late to do anything about the current problem.

All over the country there are reports of temporary lay-offs, shut-downs, reductions in staff, discontinuance of plans for expansion. Almost every industrial community knows of local readjustments in which groups of workers are idle, for uncertain periods. How much this totals, and what its economic impact will be, simply cannot be told until it runs its course.

President Truman, whatever may be in the back of his mind, has never publicly recognized the actual facts of our national financial life. He has said repeatedly of this nation that "we are rich." He has persisted in implying that we have been prosperous and secure.

The fact that we have been living on inflation for sixteen years is something he has refused publicly to acknowledge. If he were to admit it, and to take the position that it is desirable and therefore should be continued, one might know what to expect. But he keeps on talking about "preventing" inflation, while putting constantly more fuel on the inflationary fires.

Whether he is fooling himself, or merely trying to fool others (including the laws of economics), is a matter which can merely be guessed at.

The contradictions in his position are many and obvious. A year ago, he wanted high taxes because he said they were "deflationary." Now he wants high taxes to stop deflation! He can't be right both ways. The truth is, of course, that so far as prices are concerned, high taxes are strongly inflationary—since so much of the taxes wind up in consumer prices.

Inflation moves like a rabbit—by leaps and bounds. Sometimes it goes so fast that, like a running rabbit, it seems almost to float along; but it really progresses by a series of bounces. Like the rabbit again, it never runs straight, but makes sudden, unexpected changes of direction. And like a rabbit also, at any time it may dart underground—into Depression.

Left alone, inflation would come to rest at the end of each bound. That is, of course, the present situation.

American inflation got a tremendous "kick" last year. This was the result of between $10 and $12 billions of special Federal spending, over and above the budget itself. Some of this was for special military work (preparing for the possibility of a new world war) and some was for the Marshall Plan.

Whether so intended or not, this extra spending by the bureaucrats gave us a postscript to the post-war inflationary boom. We had "good times" during the election period. True to the supposed political tradition, the American voters refused to change the national administration during "prosperity."

Now the impetus of that spending is gone. What's the rabbit going to do next? Will he be encouraged to make another "hop," by means of a new spending-spree—or is he looking for a hole to hide in?

No one can guess—not even Mr. Truman and all his vast corps of "experts."

A rabbit is not a distance runner. Sometimes farm boys run rabbits down—just by making him keep on jumping till he tires. The time comes when the rabbit hasn't any more "bounce" in him. So with inflation.

Have we run the cycle of inflation? Could be. Certainly we've borrowed about all, against future taxpayers, that it is possible to borrow. Hereafter the bond drives will be fortunate if they are able to keep abreast of the old maturities. These are coming due in gradually increasing number.

Every time a rabbit jumps, it takes just a little more of his energy to make the effort. That's the way it is with inflation. It takes more and more "pump-priming" each time. There comes a time when the rabbit can't jump any more. There also comes a time when "pump-priming" simply won't keep inflation going, no matter how much is tried.

Have we reached that time?

Attendants of Miss Hart Wear Rose, Bay-Leaf, Maize

Rose, bay-leaf and maize satin costumes of the attendants completed the white brocaded satin gown worn by Miss Ruth M. Hart on Saturday, the day of her marriage to Mr. Robert S. Beswick, of Jackson street. The ceremony in Calvary Baptist Church, at three o'clock, was performed by the Rev. Lehman Strauss.

The attendants were: Maid of honor, Miss Esther Tomlinson, Walnut street, who wore rose tone; bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Bowers, Croydon, attired in bay-leaf satin; and Miss Helen Mounts, Trenton, N. J., gowned in maize. The gowns had sweet-heart necklines, and satin-covered buttons extended from the front of a small, flat collar on each to the waist-line. Sleeves were three-quarter length, and the gowns featured fish-tail backs over hoop-skirts. Head-piece for each attendant was fashioned of fresh, mixed flowers, and each carried a matching arm bouquet.

Chantilly lace trimmed the long sleeves of the brocaded satin bridal gown, it being used at the wrists also at the neckline. A hoop skirt was featured. The train was of Chantilly lace as was also her veil which fell from an orange blossom head-piece. Satin slippers were worn and the bride carried an arm bouquet of Easter lilies.

Organist for the ceremony was Miss Vera Tomlinson, Walnut street, her selections being "The Lord's Prayer," and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hart, Greenville, S. C., as they sang "I Love You Truly" and "Saviour Like A Shepherd Lead Us"; and Mr. Hart as he sang "At Dawning," "O Promise Me" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Hart, 335 Walnut street, was given in marriage by her father. The bride-groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, 352 Jackson street.

Mrs. Beswick presented to her attendants pearl necklaces; and Mr. Beswick, a naval veteran of World War II, gave leather key cases to his attendants, namely Mr. Joseph Beswick, a brother who served as best man; and Messrs. Maris M. Hart, brother of the bride, and Frank Bowers, Bristol township, who were ushers. Gift of the bride to the bride-groom was a marcasite tie pin. Mr. Beswick gave his bride a rhinestone necklace.

Mrs. Hart, the bride's mother wore a two-piece gray print dress, brown accessories, white gloves. Mrs. Baker was attired in a navy blue print dress, black accessories.

Ramblers Defeat Blackhawks Again

Bristol Ramblers roller hockey team travelled to Bridgeton, N. J., Saturday night, and defeated the Bridgeton Black Hawks, 7 to 2.

Play was rough from the start with both teams' players getting penalties. Bridgeton's goalie had 30 shots made at him of which he stopped 23, while Bell, playing goalie in relief of Dick Johnson, was called upon to stop 11 of 13 made at him.

third goal of the night, this time from 15 ft. out. The final period was scoreless.

It was a great comfort to the country doctor to know there always will be a supply of blood and plasma on hand in case his patients need it. This will provide us with invaluable medical resources which we otherwise would have to do without," he said.

"There is a definite need for blood service in Bucks county," he said, "and this new plan of the Red Cross certainly deserves the support of the whole area. So far as I know, we are the only county in this area where there is no blood bank."

"There have been cases where we had to transfer patients to Philadelphia with the accompanying danger due to the delay. For those who are in an emergency requiring immediate transfusions, we had no other recourse but to appeal to public-spirited organizations for blood donors. We had a case recently where a patient required five pints. We got it only through the warm generosity of the local fire company.
